At Home with Vogue

1. TOWNLEY CERAMICS, by Lancashire-based Connor Townley, uses the art of clay to emphasise contrasting forms, textures, and colours. Intricate hand-carved structures provide support for versatile wheel-thrown vessels in his pieces. Visit townleyceramics.wixsite.com/ceramics and follow @townley_ceramics on Instagram.

2. Inspired by the Pantheon's iconic marble floor, the Pantheon Table by BUREAU blends circular and square forms with striking harmony. Meticulously crafted and offered in elegant variations, it becomes both a functional dining piece and a sculptural centrepiece. Discover more at www.bureau.co and follow @bureau.interiors on Instagram.

3. JULIANNE ALEXANDRA curates art and collectible design — vintage and artisan-made pieces with history and soul. Her interiors and exhibitions embrace imperfection, material poetry, and the stillness found in intentional living. Discover more at juliannealexandra.com and follow @jastudiogallery on Instagram.

4. Founded on the belief that what we burn in our homes should be as considered as what we wear on our skin, New York based SELISE creates non-toxic candles. They refuse synthetic fragrance and unnecessary additives in favour of natural materials that feel honest, refined, and quietly luxurious. Each candle is poured by hand in small batches, designed not only to scent a space, but to transform it. Visit selisestudios.com and follow @selisestudios on Instagram.

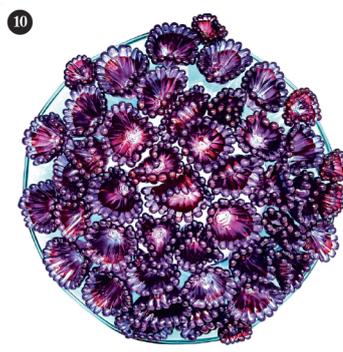

5. TOUCH HANDLES brings artistry to cabinetry. Jewellery for the home: small in size, but rich in impact. Each piece from the TouchMade range is hand-crafted in Australia from reclaimed American oak. Every handle is a unique & sustainable piece, celebrating the natural beauty of the timber's grain, tone and form, turning every touch into a moment of quiet luxury. 6. SOOS ATELIER celebrates the art of gathering. Founded in Amsterdam, the tableware brand invites you to spend more time at the table, surrounded by good food, friends and late-night conversations. With their stainless-steel-focused collections, every tablescape is set with intention, becoming a stage for life's most precious stories. Visit www.soosatelier.com and follow @soosatelier on Instagram.

7. YORKSHIRE INTERIORS defines the art of luxury living through master handcraftsmanship and timeless design. From bespoke furnishings to architecturally refined spaces, every detail is meticulously created by artisans who transform vision into elegance. Partnering with discerning designers, they craft interiors that embody sophistication, authenticity, and the enduring beauty of true craftsmanship. Visit yorkshireinteriors.shop and follow @yorkshireinteriors_ on Instagram.

8. ISAC ELAM KAID (b. 1991, Alberta) lives in British Columbia, Canada. Working with stone, wood and leather, his designs negotiate solidity and vulnerability, proposing time as a material process. His work has been exhibited internationally, with pieces in public and private collections. Featured: Low Table, composed of layered wooden planks, the stacked mass reads as a singular volume—its quiet geometry balancing utility and monumentality. Visit isac-elam-kaid.com and follow @isac_elam_kaid on Instagram.

9. J HILLS STANDARD are makers of handmade, collectible and useful objects in glass and other natural materials. Their products celebrate the progressive and handmade, whereby the hand of the maker is revealed, not hidden. Hailing from the southern shores of Ireland, JHS are a mother and daughter team. Bespoke service is also available. Visit www.jhillsstandard.com and follow @jhillsstandard on Instagram.

10. KIARA PELISSIER's blown glass work, acting as a visual diary, explores the balance between vulnerability and resilience. The dual nature of glass—delicate yet enduring—mirrors the living corals that inspire her, evoking themes of protection, renewal, health, and quiet strength. 11. KOVA was born from a passion for creating custom furniture of the highest quality, informed by years of industry experience. With a focus on marble creations, they assemble expert artisans to offer their clients a tailored service that values perfectionism. Visit www.maisonkova.com and follow @maisonkova on Instagram.

12. At ZINCUTEC, metal is transformed into art that reflects both the serenity of nature and the depth of human expression. Design is guided by the principles of minimalism, clarity, and timeless aesthetics. The German company is specialised in giving brass, copper, and stainless steel their unique final touch. Visit zincutec.eu and follow @zincutec on Instagram.

13. XANIKA curates rare African antiques and contemporary objects from artisans across the continent, celebrating craftsmanship and cultural heritage. From museum-quality pieces to distinctive homeware, each object carries story and soul. Xanika now offers interior design services; book consultations at xanika.com and follow @xanika_ on Instagram.

14. OLD FOUR LEGS is a Melbourne based studio that celebrates material exploration. Presently defined by his metal work, head designer-maker Torren Clifford doesn't place limits on his practice with regards to material or object typology, resulting in a diverse spectrum of works inspired by the natural terrain and country of Australia. Featured: Troglioni Lamp in Patinated brass and silicone bronze. Visit oldfourlegs.com and follow @oldfourlegs on Instagram.

15. STUDIO LOBO is a multidisciplinary design studio creating lived-in luxury for high-end residential and boutique hospitality clients. Founded by Sarah Lobo, the studio designs expressive interiors and bespoke furniture that feel collected over time. Her spaces evoke a sense of soul, depth, and narrative. Based in Miami, FL, Studio Lobo brings meticulous craft to every project, proving that true luxury is designed to be lived in. Photography by Jeanne Canto. The Flo Lounge Chair is now available for pre-order www.studiolobo.com. Follow for more @studiolobo_ on Instagram.

16. MMOOS is an Italian design brand offering highly poetic and unconventional stone objects. The Mostro collection, designed by BRH+ studio, explores contrast through sculptural forms. Balancing raw materiality and refinement, it channels radical elegance. The collection is crafted using sustainably reclaimed quarry Rosa Peralba Marble and Travertine from Tivoli. Photography by Giacomo Bianco. Visit www.mmoos.it and follow @mmoos.it on Instagram.
